Koinobori Carp Fish Kite Directions

Materials: Paper with template, markers, scissors, glue, string

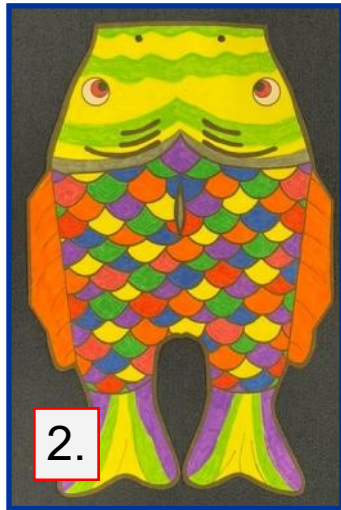

Directions:

1. Color your fish! Get creative. Traditional Koinobori fish kites are one color, but you can add as many colors as you want.

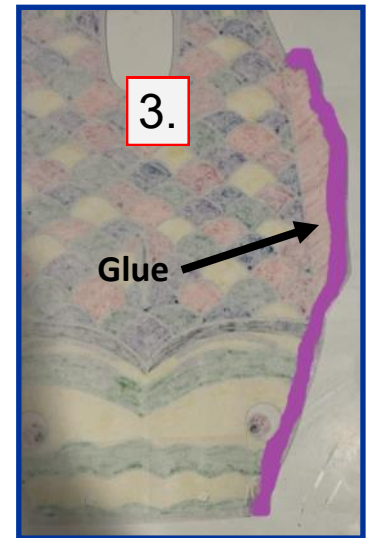

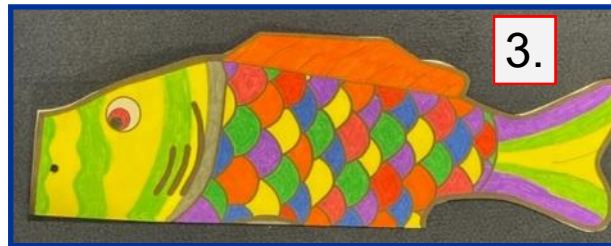

2. Cut out your fish.

*Younger children may need a bit of assistance from an adult.

3. Glue your fish together. Attach the fins and head together. The purple line in the picture is where the glue should go.

4. Put the string through the holes at the top of the fish so you can show off your new kite.

Fun Fact: In Japanese culture, the koi is known as a symbol of strength, energy, and courage.
